5 New Graduates Become Alumni

Jake Horwitz, Matt Glass, Matt Albo, Aaron Chapnik, and Austin Goldberg join the alumni pool

In Spring and over the summer we had five brothers graduate, a relatively large graduation class for our chapter. Every single one of them were at one point on E-board, two of them were even past masters. We are excited for the future of these brothers and hope they stay in touch.

Jake Horwitz graduated with a degree in finance. He landed a job as financial operations/ concessions manager at Vanderbilt College. Jake was president during the 2017-2018 year and his contributions to our constitution and his implementation of an academic plan made great improvements to our chapter.

Matt Glass graduated with a degree in Biology and minor in chemistry, and he plans to attend EMT school next. He is back in Orlando now, but his spirit as gym chair and Brother at (extra) Large lives on with Delta Chi.

Matt Albo also graduated with a degree in finance. He moved back to New Jersey and is searching for a finance job in the Northeast. Matt as well as his nickname will be remembered fondly by his brothers and we hope to see him again soon.

Aaron Chapnik, another past master during the 2018-2019 year, graduated with a marketing degree. He is back in Broward county and working on getting a marketing job with a Florida sports team. Aaron's brotherhood and social prowess was great for chapter morale and will be hard to match.

Austin Goldberg graduated with a degree in management. He was the lieutenant master from 2018-2019 and pledge master last Spring. A man of few words, Austin and his roommate Aaron set the precedent for friendship between brothers and we hope that bond doesn't change fade graduation.

Good luck boys, we hope to see you soon!

Alumni at HQ

Perry Chencin and Matt Shipley

Founding father and past master Perry Chencin recently resigned from AEPi International Headquarters after three years as communication specialist. He plans to continue working with Jewish nonprofits and improving their communication efforts going forward.

Matt Shipley, lieutenant master with Perry, half of Alpha Class, and the wisest old man this chapter has ever known, is beginning his second year as the Educational Leadership Consultant for two schools in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, and Vancouver!

Both brothers have been extremely valuable resources to the chapter before and after graduation, and we appreciate everything you guys have done for us.

Alumni Weekend

Fall 2019

Ethan Bello is our current alumni relations chairman. If you don't already know him, Ethan is a senior majoring in finance and is the acting exchequer for IFC. He will be your point of contact when it comes to information about alumni events or if you want to come visit the chapter while you're in town.

We would love for all our chapter alumni to come to a weekend at the school where you can meet our new members and we can honor you for our chapter that you built. To find a date that works the best for everyone, Ethan has a few weekends open to accommodate for schedule. The options for the alumni weekend are as follows:

- November 2nd
- November 9th
- November 16th

If you plan to attend (which we hope you all can), please either text or email Ethan your preferred dates, and be sure to mention if one of those weekends absolutely won't work for you.

Azul's Brewhouse on campus

Depending on when you went to Florida Gulf Coast, you may remember when Einstein's used to be a bar. For our current undergrads, a bar on campus sounded unreal until this semester. Student Government has opened a bar attached to the restaurant on the North Lake boardwalk called Azul's Brewhouse. Beers range from $4-$5, pretty decent prices for broke college students.
